

Tomorrow

words & music by John Dandrea

flying, and sighing time was so far away until it passed us by you were gone before ever I knew why I'm asking empty questions, to fill my empty mind. . . .

I know, you'll go and never cast a glance here back my way when all is done, what really can I say? it all seems now so distant I never said goodbye. . . . (goodbye)

remember once in a while, these moments forgotten on your smile how every one came true - remember how I looked at you. . . .

laughter, and after I've gone, and just a mem'ry lingers on Wish sometimes feelings weren't so strong Oh, and everything I've felt for you, will you still remember, tomorrow? (tomorrow) tomorrow. . . .
