

For The Lady

words & music by John Dandrea

There's a lady who sings about the spring she's in my dreams she gives her love to everything how beautiful she seems the lady - for the lady. . . . .

There's a lady who says that love can last just give it half a chance try to forget about the past and never say you can't the lady - for the lady. . . . . I sing

and how the flowers grow and her love shines like a golden ring any way the wind will blow the lady - for the lady. . . . . I sing
