

Along For The Ride

words & music by John Dandrea

I can see you walking along the road, and I know there's many more for you but I won't try to make up your mind
I'm just along for the ride. . . .

There's always so many roads to choose,
and every one's a different life for you and I know, you're all torn up inside
I'm just along for the ride. . . .

Losing someone, like the only friend you own sorrow is a thing you just can't hide
many is the time, I've walked that road alone
now I'm just along for the ride. . . .

As the highway rolls up for the night and all the cars have passed you by I'll still be here, by your side
I'm just along for the ride. . . .

Losing someone, like the only friend you own
sorrow is a thing you just can't hide
many is the time, I've walked that road alone
now I'm just along for the ride. . . .

(c) 1980 by John Dandrea

