

Watching Over Me

words & music by:
John Dandrea

And if I have to go away, there won't be words to say how much I'll miss you near but all I do is close my eyes and think of you and suddenly you're here

And if I need someone to hold, when the night is turning cold when there just isn't anyone the memories of you and I will keep me warm and I can feel you here

Watching over me, keep watching over me reaching out across the miles,
watching over me.

And if our destinies collide, and you're back here by my side as it was meant to be I wouldn't have to be afraid to face the years I'd always know you're here

reaching out across the miles,
watching over me.

Out across the miles, watching over me
