

Always True

words & music by John Dandrea

It's another day - and I smile when I look back since the day I met You Jesus, there is nothing that I lack

and I close my eyes, I can see I'm almost home and I find such comfort, 'cause I know I'm not alone so I fold my hands, and I bow my head in prayer and I cry out "Jesus!" 'cause I know that You are there and I give my praise to You in a world of broken promises I know Your Word is - always true

It's a brand new day - with another chance to show our Lord and risen Savior, to those who still don't know

and I close my eyes, I can see I'm almost home
and I find such comfort, 'cause I know I'm not alone
