

Leaving You With This Song

words: John Dandrea music: Mikael Schulin

As I walk in the early morning sometimes I find peace soon I think it'll begin storming deep inside of me and I look back through the years at a lot of mistakes I have made I think of those I brought to tears and the part that they have played and the river flows on and on and the clock keeps ticking along sands in the hourglass, soon will be gone and I'm leaving you with this song and I looked for you everywhere when I felt like the world was mine we take for granted we're always there and we won't run out of time as I walk in that place of rest and lay a rose at your feet I realize I am always blessed and soon again we'll meet

and the river flows on and on
and the clock keeps ticking along
sands in the hourglass, soon will be gone
and I'm leaving you with this song