

The End Of The Day

words & music by John Dandrea

to think of our world, looking on from above surely God's watching us, looking for love but is it still there, in sufficient degree have we treated each other like family?

we know all the history, the good and the bad we know all the chances that mankind has had the Arc and the flood, the starting anew looking on from above, the earth is still blue have we listened to God and followed His plan have we compared eternity to the life of a man? and haven't we learned there's only One Way we must hear the Lord by the end of the day this is our moment, we must hear the call let's gather our courage, it's time to stand tall the whole world is shaking, as part of God's plan but you can be saved through the Grace of the Lamb

have we compared eternity to the life of a man?
and haven't we learned there's only One Way
