

Silence

words: John Dandrea music: Mikael Schulin

I see you every morning in the light of dawn I give you all I have and I try to hold on

I see your face before me both night and day searching in my every dream for the words to say but I only hear - silence silence - the silence of your heart

silence - the silence of your heart

I think of how we started without a care every day I'd wake up you were always there now I only hear -

silence - the silence of your heart
silence - the silence of your heart

The circumstances changed and we drifted apart and now I have to ask you can we make a new start?

but will I only hear -
silence - the silence of your heart
